Questions/Comments

- How will duplicate containers be invoiced?
  - A duplicate container is considered to be undocumented. Therefore, it will be invoiced using the current process.
- When will the default CRID change be in a release?
  - It will be in a release after January 2014.
- What fields would be used to determine the 3rd party CRID for invoicing?
  - IDEAlliance is working on creating a "3rd party" field as part of an initiative separate from eInduction. How this will impact the default CRID for invoicing will be researched by the eInduction Team.
